

REMOVAL OF THE SOUTHERN SOCIETY

THE ENGINEERS' CLUB LIKELY TO TAKE ITS HOUSE IN WEST TWENTY-FIFTH-ST.

Negotiations are all but completed for the sub-letting of the house Nos. 18 and 20 West Twenty-fifth-st. by the Southern Society to the Engineers Club. In the spring the Southern Society decided to give up its club features and to become a society pure and simple again. This meant that it should surrender its big clubhouse and merely rent rooms where the meetings and entertainments should be held, and where the library, newspapers and periodicals should be kept. The organization still has a lease of over five years on its house, having occupied it less than five years. The lease was for ten years.

The house is so desirable for club purposes that the society expected little difficulty in letting it. The Engineers' Club, which was founded in 1888, and has 600 members, has found its present quarters No. 10 West Twenty-ninth-st., cramped, so it made an effort to secure the Twenty-fifth-st. place. The papers have not been signed, but the two committees have virtually agreed on terms. The Southern Society makes a good bargain, for after paying the rent to the estate owning the property it will have enough left from the sum it receives to lease new rooms and to meet some of its other expenses. It lets the house furnished. At the same time the Engineers' Club will pay only a reasonable figure.

With this handsome income, in addition to the dues the society will be able to give numerous receptions and entertainments. Charles A. Deshon, the president, is strongly desirous of making the winter a notable one with the society. Eminent Southerners and others will be honored by receptions, and in other ways the members will keep fresh the memories of their birthplaces. No room has yet been rented, but to find proper ones will be an easy task.

CHANGES MADE AT COOPER UNION.

Many changes have been made at Cooper Union in the course of the summer. The work of repairing the part of the building used for educational purposes is practically completed. The library is closed for extensive repairs. Owing to the additions to the building the schools of Cooper Union will this term be able to accommodate a larger number of pupils than heretofore. Provision has been made in the upper story of the addition for new studios, to be used for the art school for women. Proper light and ventilation are thus insured. The removal of the art school will make it possible to use the gallery surrounding the reading-room in connection with the library. The new addition gives place for the enlargement of the right classes in science and art, but they are now cresting.

The various schools begin the early part of next month. All the classes are filled.

STEPS TO EXTRADITE FRANCIS H. WEEKS.

District-Attorney Nicoll yesterday received following dispatch from Secretary Gresham, dated last Saturday:

"Consul Williams cables to-day: De Cress (undoubtedly a phonetic error for President Rodriques) restores individual guarantees, but reserves power to extradite Weeks within forty days." Forward proofs promptly."

Harrison R. Williams is Consul-General of the United States at San Jose, Costa Rica, where Francis H. Weeks, the absconding lawyer, is under arrest. Assistant District-Attorney Lindsay has sent all the indicia and exhibits in his case to Mr. Williams. Their genuineness is attested by the Consul of Secretary Gresham, Secretary Rice, County Clerk Purroy and C. R. Flint, Consul-General of Costa Rica.
